

Privacy

This privacy policy has been prepared by RUNIBEX TECHNOLOGY GROUP ("RTG") for the determination of its responsibilities regarding the privacy of "www.runibex.com" ("Websites"). The following clauses contain the rules for the collection and distribution of information on the Websites.

We will use your IP address to troubleshoot problems on our servers and to administer our website.

The Websites do not control and censor the information that users send and publish through their own service channels. Users are responsible for the legal consequences of the activities they will perform during the use of the Web Sites services.

Statistical and profile information is also collected on our website. This information can be used in all desired cases. This information will be used in cases of monitoring visitor logs and providing personalized content.

There are also links to other sites within our site. Websites are not responsible for the privacy policies and contents of other sites.

Security

There are security measures implemented by our company to prevent loss of information, unauthorized use and unauthorized modification of information on our site. These security measures are as follows;

1. Using SSL Security Certificate,
2. Our site works with Microsoft Windows Server technology, which is the world standard. The latest known protections have been installed and are constantly monitored to prevent any mishap.

Contact

Regarding the privacy policy applied on the website; You can send us any questions, comments and thoughts to us at info@runibex.com.